includes a year of hosting, domain, business email & maintenance

Five pages. One trusted name.

Nafaka Foods now has a complete, live website built around what the business actually is: a Ugandan grain trading company, with rice — Super, Local, Pakistan and Basmati — at its core, alongside soya bean and maize. Smart vending, the newest venture, has its own dedicated page rather than crowding the homepage.

The site is organised into five pages — Home, About, Products, Services and Contact — sharing one consistent design system: the same palette, typography, navigation and motion throughout, so it reads as one considered site rather than five separate ones.

5

Pages, each with a clear single job

4

2

Business divisions, one trusted
name

Five pages. Five clear jobs.

Each page has one job and hands off cleanly to the next — nobody has to read the whole site to find what they came for.

01 Home — index.html

Establishes Nafaka Foods as a grain trading company first, introduces smart vending as a new second venture, and links out to both.

02 About — about.html

Company story since 2016, vision, mission and values.

03 Products — products.html

The four rice categories — Super, Local, Pakistan, Basmati — plus soya bean and maize, each with its own icon.

04 Services — services.html

The full smart vending pitch: how it works, what's managed by whom, the rollout process and FAQ — everything that was the whole site before, now living in its proper place.

05 Contact — contact.html

WhatsApp Business as the primary channel, plus phone, email and a short enquiry form covering both grain orders and vending interest.

TYPOGRAPHY & MOTION

- + Manrope carries every heading, label and paragraph across all five pages.
- + Fraunces Italic is reserved for the one emphasised phrase in every headline.
- + Lenis smooth scroll and GSAP ScrollTrigger reveals, with a full CSS-only fallback if either fails to load.

STACK, SEO & PERFORMANCE

- + Static HTML5, CSS and vanilla JavaScript, shared as one styles.css and script.js across all five pages — no build step, no framework.
- + Each page carries its own title, meta description and Open Graph tags; the Organization schema sits on the homepage.
- + Hero imagery is preloaded and marked high-priority; below-fold images load lazily with intrinsic dimensions set, so layout never shifts.
- + Visible keyboard focus on every interactive element, in a colour that adapts to the section behind it.

Designed as a complete system.

01 Visual identity

Brand-led colour, typography, spacing, editorial composition and premium art direction.

02 Custom imagery

Dedicated desktop and mobile hero artwork plus a supporting service visual, with hand-drawn icons for every product and outcome.

03 Responsive build

Purpose-designed layouts for phone, tablet and desktop – not simple scaling.

04 Conversion tools

WhatsApp lead flow, click-to-call, email, a structured enquiry form and clear CTAs on every page.

05 Technical quality

Semantic HTML, accessibility basics, smooth motion, compressed imagery and performance tuning.

06 Launch support

Final review, live deployment, domain connection guidance and handover.

Live in 2 weeks.

Fourteen focused days.

The schedule began once scope, content and project commencement were confirmed. Feedback was grouped into clear review points to protect momentum.

WEEK 01 / DAYS 1-7

Define & design

- + Kickoff and content finalisation
- + Page architecture and messaging
- + Visual direction and UI design
- + Desktop and mobile image production
- + First design review

WEEK 02 / DAYS 8-14

Build & launch

- + Responsive front-end development, all five pages
- + Motion and interaction polish
- + WhatsApp and contact integration
- + Cross-device quality assurance
- + Final revisions, launch and handover

Client inputs required — one authorised reviewer, consolidated feedback within 24 hours of each review point, final contact details, domain access when needed and approval of the launch version.

DELIVERY OUTCOME

A five-page, responsive website, live and ready to present, promote and convert.

Built to plan. Then built on further.

The engagement began as a single vending landing page. Owner feedback repositioned the business correctly — grain trading first, vending second — which meant restructuring into a proper multi-page site. All five pages shipped at the original two-week pace, for the original fee.

RECOMMENDED NEXT

01 Analytics & attribution

Add GA4 or a Meta Pixel so enquiry volume and traffic sources can be measured centrally.

02 Custom domain & hosting

Connect the production domain and confirm the hosting target, per the handover notes overleaf.

03 Real product photography

Products and About currently use icons and typography rather than photos — real grain and rice photography would strengthen both once available.

04 Testimonials or case studies

An early client quote would reinforce the About page's story with evidence.

Everything needed to take it live.

FILE MANIFEST

index.html	Home — page markup, metadata and structured data
about.html	About — story, vision, mission, values
products.html	Products — rice, soya bean and maize categories
services.html	Services — the smart vending pitch
contact.html	Contact — WhatsApp, details and enquiry form
styles.css / script.js	Shared design system and behaviour, all five pages
assets/	Logo, favicon set and vending imagery (WebP)

GOING LIVE

Open index.html in a modern browser to preview the site locally — navigation between all five pages works from any of them. To publish, upload the full contents of the website folder to the public root of any standard static host, then connect the final client domain.
